1991 CANADA WINTER GAMES WOMEN'S GOLD MEDAL TEAM

The 1991 Canada Winter Games in Charlottetown, PEI marked the first year for female hockey in the Canada Winter Games, and it was a record-setting performance for the inaugural Team Alberta Female Hockey squad who defeated British Columbia, 2-1, to win the gold medal. Twelve-year-old Hayley Wickenheiser, an underage player on the team, scored the tournament winning goal in the third period. Offensively, Team Alberta was led by Bobbi Auger with 10 goals and three assists, Sandy Mikula (two goals, six assists), Suzette Gillingham (three goals, five assists), Val Gill (two goals, six assists), and Wickenheiser (three goals, three assists). In addition to winning gold, the staff and volunteers with Team Alberta established an evaluation, selection and team preparation process that has continued to be effective.
